

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 18, 2008

Contact: Alicia Moran
703-739-2424 x110

Fox Chapel Veterinary Clinic & PetWatch Form New Partnership

PetWatch Animal Hospitals, Inc. (“PetWatch”) announced that it has brought another outstanding facility, Fox Chapel Veterinary Clinic, into the family. This is yet another step in the continuing development of an advanced, innovative model for exceptional animal care in the DC metro area.

Fox Chapel Veterinary Hospital is a full service animal hospital providing comprehensive veterinary care and behavioral management for dogs and cats. It is led by highly regarded veterinarian Dave McKeown and staffed by experienced veterinary practitioners who pride themselves on an ability accurately diagnose, and compassionately convey to owners the pets medical situation and treatment options.

“If needed, we work closely with the veterinary specialists at our sister hospital, Greenbriar Veterinary Referral & Emergency Hospital, just up the road, to take advantage of all state of the art technologies and procedures that are available there, “said Dr. McKeown.

“This partnership is an important step in the development of a state-of-the-art system of animal care, “said L Peter Smith, Chief Executive Officer of PetWatch. “As we add more hospitals and capability to our network, everybody benefits form the creation of this leading specialty, general, and emergency care model—the first of its kind in the DC region.”

Located in Gaithersburg Maryland, Fox Chapel is a 3200 square foot facility which includes three exam rooms, two treatment areas, a full laboratory, a surgical suite, radiology and four separate kenneling areas, including a isolation area to keep various animals separated. There are two entrances from the front parking lot, and a rear entrance that can be opened upon a clients request to accommodate each veterinary situation. Customer service is a top priority at Fox Chapel, a facility that accommodates a variety of waiting room areas and needs.

”Dr. McKeown will continue his popular—and free—new pet owner seminars, as well as explore additional customer-focused services such as Sunday hours and wellness programs,” said Jon Kumnick, the PetWatch Chief Development Officer. “It is great to have another outstanding hospital and team to work with in PetWatch.”

###

About PetWatch

Founded in 2007, PetWatch brings to its veterinary partners extensive management and financial resources, best business practices, and the requisite animal care market expertise to increase productivity, profitability and patient value -- enabling practicing professionals to return to the real business of their business – helping animals in need. The “PetWatch Partnership Model” is built upon a triple bottom line business philosophy designed to enhance the quality of care, services offered and practice of 21st century veterinary medicine while – simultaneously – increasing operational efficiency, market share and the bottom line. Comprised of veterinary practices and emergency hospitals, the PetWatch network is committed to delivering the highest quality primary and specialty care as well as referral medicine. Our centers of excellence and staff specialists are dedicated to the principals of modern veterinary medicine, providing state-of-the-art critical care to animals across all fields – oncology, neurology, cardiology, internal medicine, dermatology, and surgery. www.petwatchinc.com.

Directions to Fox Chapel: I-270 N to Middlebrook Road (Exit 13); right Frederick Road (Rt. 355); at first light, left into Fox Chapel Shopping Center. Fox Chapel Veterinary Hospital is on the right.